It was a person of some or obvity in the poliares of Oregon who is supposed to have made the original discovery that the number of effices was not adequate to the wants of the people. This was more than 20 years ago, since then although the offices have been readly multiplied, they have been more inadequate still. It is a favorate theory of a class of philosophers that there can be no want in all the universe without the cor-; responsing object to gratify it. But here, at least they are at fault. Secretary Bia: "has here credited with saying recently that while the government has less than 100,000 places to the government has test than Roboto has been all three are now on fire in the various departments), more than 1.000.001 applications. Knithing could show more conveniently how inadequate to the wants of the people the offices are. Then there was the greenback party, every member of which indulged the same idea. It is bardly an overavagant estimate to say with one of our leading journals that in the daily wolks of American life one ont of every three or four men is ready to abandon his present! pursuits, whatever they may be, and enter the service of his country. Who and enter the service of his country. Who shall say that patriotism is an extinct virtue? This patriotism will appear to still greater advantage when it is considered in relation to the multitude of local effices, state, county and manicipal, purple of, which is followed with increasing zeroldy higher or humbler ambition. increasing zeality higher or humbler ambition.

Onlice-seeking is becoming more and more a regular profession. Under our system of spoits and bosses it is becoming the settled and professional employment of a class who have not ability to succeed in any legitimate pursuit, when we have increasing in the settled to be content with the settl Office-scelling is becoming more and more a ability to succeed in any legitimate pursuit, who are too mean spirited to be content with seives to a boss brigand for whatever share of the prizes he may choose to award them. Un der these conditions office-seeking can not be other than demoralizing. It says the spirit of self-dependence, infects with its poison the principles which lie of the bottom of sound in-dividual character, and makes steady inroads alike upon the foundations of private morality good facture, is reasonably sure. It is found in the failure of nearly all who follow it, coupled with the distract and disesteem of their feilowmen. The professional office-seeker 41ways finds his true level due public estimation

BI-METALIJSÜ.

The speech of ex-Senator Howe of Wisconsin, one of the delegates to the monetary conference in Paris, has been received in this country, and is regarded as a valuable contri bution to the discussion of bi-metallism. Mr Howe devoted himself especially to correcting the inspression which was entertained in Eu-rope that the United States was particularly nterested in the double-standard system because we are a great after-producing country. This mistake he controverted, and pointed out the facts to file conference that justified bis assumption. He said that the United States is not engaged in mining, and that while the pro-duction of silver in this country is considered. it is doubtful whether there is not more money spent in developing unproductive mines than there is obtained from the paying ones. He also stated that the production of gold in the United States for ton years past greatly or conded that if silver, and that if we should fa vor the single standard, it might be attributed to selfish considerations.

The yield of either metal in this country in The yield of either metal in this country in value is insignificant when compared with the value of our wheat cotten, tebucco, corn, or hay crops, or the hog products. He argued that this country had all the resources necessitative first under the correction of sary to protect itself under the operation of gold standard, and could hold her own with other pations in obtaining that precious metal, not only by mining, but by selling the excess of our agricultural products to other nations, not to speak of the immense same which are blought here annually by the hosts of immigrants now flocking to our shores; but REGULAR AUCTION SALE to contended that the double standard would he cost for all nations having intercourse with I will sell at Nathan's Auction House, cos of First and Pine Spreets.

Mr. Justin McCarthy has written a letter in which he favors the federation of all the British nationalities, provinces and colonies all over the earth—with local parliaments to deal with local questions, and an imperial parliament in take cognizance of imperial affairs. That proposition involves making the queen an actual empress, not only in India, but in Ex-rope, America and Africa. His idea is to restrict the English parliament to the consider-ation of matters peculiarly English, to restore the Scotlish and Irish parliaments, and to create a parliament for Wales. The queen would be at once queen of England, queen of Scot land, queen of Iroland, and empress of the British dominions throughout the world. The prince of Wales would be an actual reigning prince, and would take up his residence among bis linguing, approve or reject-the acts of the Welsh parliament, wear a lock in his cap on St. David's day, and, in general, do as the Weish do. It is a pretty scheme to talk about, but is not likely to receive grave attention.
